

PROCAMPS™ TOP 75

PROSPECT SHOWCASE presented by PRASCO

The ProCamps Top 75 Prospect Showcase presented by Prasco provides exposure for high school baseball players to participate in drills and instructional games led by three of the area's top NCAA Division I Head Baseball Coaches. The showcase is open to all high school baseball players graduating in 2010, 2011, and 2012. Each player will have the opportunity to participate in position drills and instructional games.

The showcase will be the only event of this kind in the region where players have the opportunity to showcase their skills in front of three division 1 coaches to include: Tracy Smith from Indiana University, Scott Googins from Xavier University, and Dan Simonds from Miami University. Collegiate assistant coaches will be on hand to assist with the participants workouts during the clinic.

Registration will be limited to a first come first serve basis by position: 20 pitchers, 12 catchers, and 43 position players. A waiting list will be constructed once registration reaches capacity. Please fill out the participants positions carefully, as the players will receive an evaluation only at their primary position only. Players will receive three hours of expert instruction from the coaching staff, and players will also participate in three hours of games. Each pitcher will throw two innings each during the games. Each participant will also receive a t-shirt with their attendance at the showcase.

COACHING STAFF

Tracy Smith, Indiana University, Head Baseball Coach

Tracy Smith has completed four seasons as Indiana baseball's head coach. In his four years at the helm of the Hoosiers, IU is 104-126. In 12 years as a head coach, Smith has a career record of 421-346-1 (.549). In 2009, Coach Smith led the Hoosiers to the Big Ten Tournament title, sweeping all four tournament games and winning by an average of 9 runs per game, on their way to an appearance in the NCAA Regionals. The 2008 season was a significant upward turn for the Hoosiers, as Indiana made its first Big Ten Tournament appearance since 2004 by rallying for a sixth-place finish in the regular season.

Scott Googins, Head Baseball Coach, Xavier University

Scott Googins recently completed his fourth season as the head coach for the Xavier baseball team. The 2009 campaign was another record-breaking year for the Musketeers as XU built upon the success of the 2007 and 2008 seasons. In 2009, Googins led Xavier to its first ever NCAA Baseball Tournament appearance, finishing the season with a 39-21 record and an Atlantic 10 Conference Championship. The Musketeers made it to the championship game of the Atlantic 10 Tournament in 2008 for the first time in school history after winning the team's second all-time A-10 regular season title. For his outstanding leadership, Googins was named the 2008 Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year.

Dan Simonds, Head Baseball Coach, Miami University

In 4 seasons at the helm of the Miami University Baseball program Head Coach Dan Simonds has led the Redhawks to three 30 win seasons as well as three Mid American Conference Tournament berths. In his nine years at Miami, Simonds has been part of eight 30 plus win campaigns. Simonds has coached 9 major league draft picks in the past 4 seasons at Miami. During his time at Miami 29 Redhawk players have been offered contracts from major league organizations. Prior to arriving at Miami Simonds spent 13 years in professional baseball as a player, coach, manager and roving instructor for the Baltimore Orioles, Chicago Cubs, San Diego Padres and MLB Commissioner's office.
